Charlestown, Massachusetts

Foreword

We, the graduating seniors of Charlestown High School 1963, hold in our hands the key to the gateway of success. Ours personally is the choice as to whether or not we use this key intelligently and effectively. We can unlock the gate and walk through into a life of interesting, purposeful activity, of usefulness, and of personal happiness; or we can spend the rest of our lives fenced in a narrow little yard of immaturity and futility.

It seems only yesterday that we entered Charlestown High School as young, green, pliable sophomores. Now, after three testing years, we are young men and women. As we leave our granite walls for the last time as students, we are filled with expectations, hopes, dreams, ambitions. We are also filled with nostalgic memories of the good friends we have made, the crackling excitement of our games, the bubbling fun of parties, and these molders of our futures -- our teachers. Some of these memories we have tried to capture for you and for us in this, our Yearbook.

We owe a tremendous debt to ourselves, to our parents, and to our teachers. Let us try to live up to the fine reputation of Charlestown's former graduating classes. Let us utilize our knowledge and potentialities to their fullest extent. Let us make the best possible use of that key. And let us never forget our beloved school.

Our Head Master

Arthur J. Sullivan, Head Master

TO THE CLASS OF 1963:

I welcome this opportunity to greet you through the medium of your Yearbook. May you look back on your days at Charlestown High School with fond memories, remembering that we of the faculty tried to help you develop into ladies and gentlemen, inculcated with the true desire to be good and useful citizens in this great land of ours. I hope that you will feel an enduring sense of kinship with your Alma Mater.

When you read this, you will have fulfilled one of your ambitions, that of being graduated from high school. Some of you are awaiting the opening of a new school term to further your education; others are already starting a career in the business world. Regardless of your choice, it is my earnest wish that you will give your utmost, and that God will see fit to shower His blessings on you.

I feel that God has a definite plan and place for everyone in this world. But each must seek and find his niche. The road will not be easy; many obstacles may be in the way. But persistence, coupled with your God-given abilities and with the best effort of which you are capable, will lead to success.

To each and all, I wish the best in life.

Sincerely,

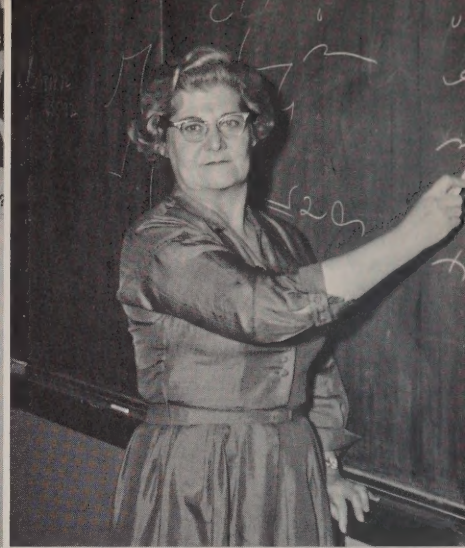

ARTHUR J. SULLIVAN
Head Master.

A yearbook should be the one souvenir of high school years whose value increases as adult years go by. Here in our book are our classmates, our teachers, the underclass students, our classrooms, our games, our parties, all our activities; scholastic, extra-curricular, athletic, intellectual, social. They are all so vivid to us now that we think we shall never forget them. Yet we realize that memories fade and dim with time. May this book always be the means of bringing back our memories, clear and bright as have been the years at Charlestown High School.

The Yearbook staff is proud to have had the opportunity of producing this book. We humbly hope that it is as good a picture of our school and our class as we have tried to make it. We are also humbly grateful to our advisors, Miss Reid and Dr. Tyrell, the sine qua non of a Charlestown Yearbook.

Last-Minute Artists

Someone always has to do the last-minute, frenzied work, and here are the ones who did it: Bob Lemist, who chased missing writeups and pictures, Jessie Babine, who typed her fingers off, Angela Walsh, who not only typed, but who also did all the group identifications and picture scheduling, and Linda Baldwin, who both directed and did slave labor.

Football Season '62

The 1962 season was a sloppy one as far as weather was concerned, as may be seen from the pictures, but a clean and hard-hitting one from a football point of view. The record shows only two losses -- one to Hyde Park and one to South Boston. The rest of the season was a winning one, and the team finished third in the District League. Under Coaches Jeffrey Keating and Peter Kondos, with the leadership of Co-captains Alan Hallowell and Wendell Fidler, the team had a very creditable season with the promise of better things to come in 1963.

The record of the basketball team in the District League was a proud 9 wins and 3 losses. The team got off to a fine start, winning three in a row, then losing to Jamaica Plain but coming back to win four straight. At this point Charlestown and Jamaica Plain were tied for first place with four games remaining. We lost to South Boston but bounced back by winning a thriller from Jamaica Plain. In the next game, underdog Hyde Park upset the applecart and Charlestown's chances for the District Championship, but the season record was an excellent one.

Seniors leaving the team are Wendell Fidler, Vincent McCann, and Co-Captains Sam Marino and Walter Stella. Sam Marino and outstanding junior Addie Duraes, high scorer for Charlestown, were both chosen for the District All-Star Team. As always, the members of the team attribute their success to their fine coach, Jeff Keating.

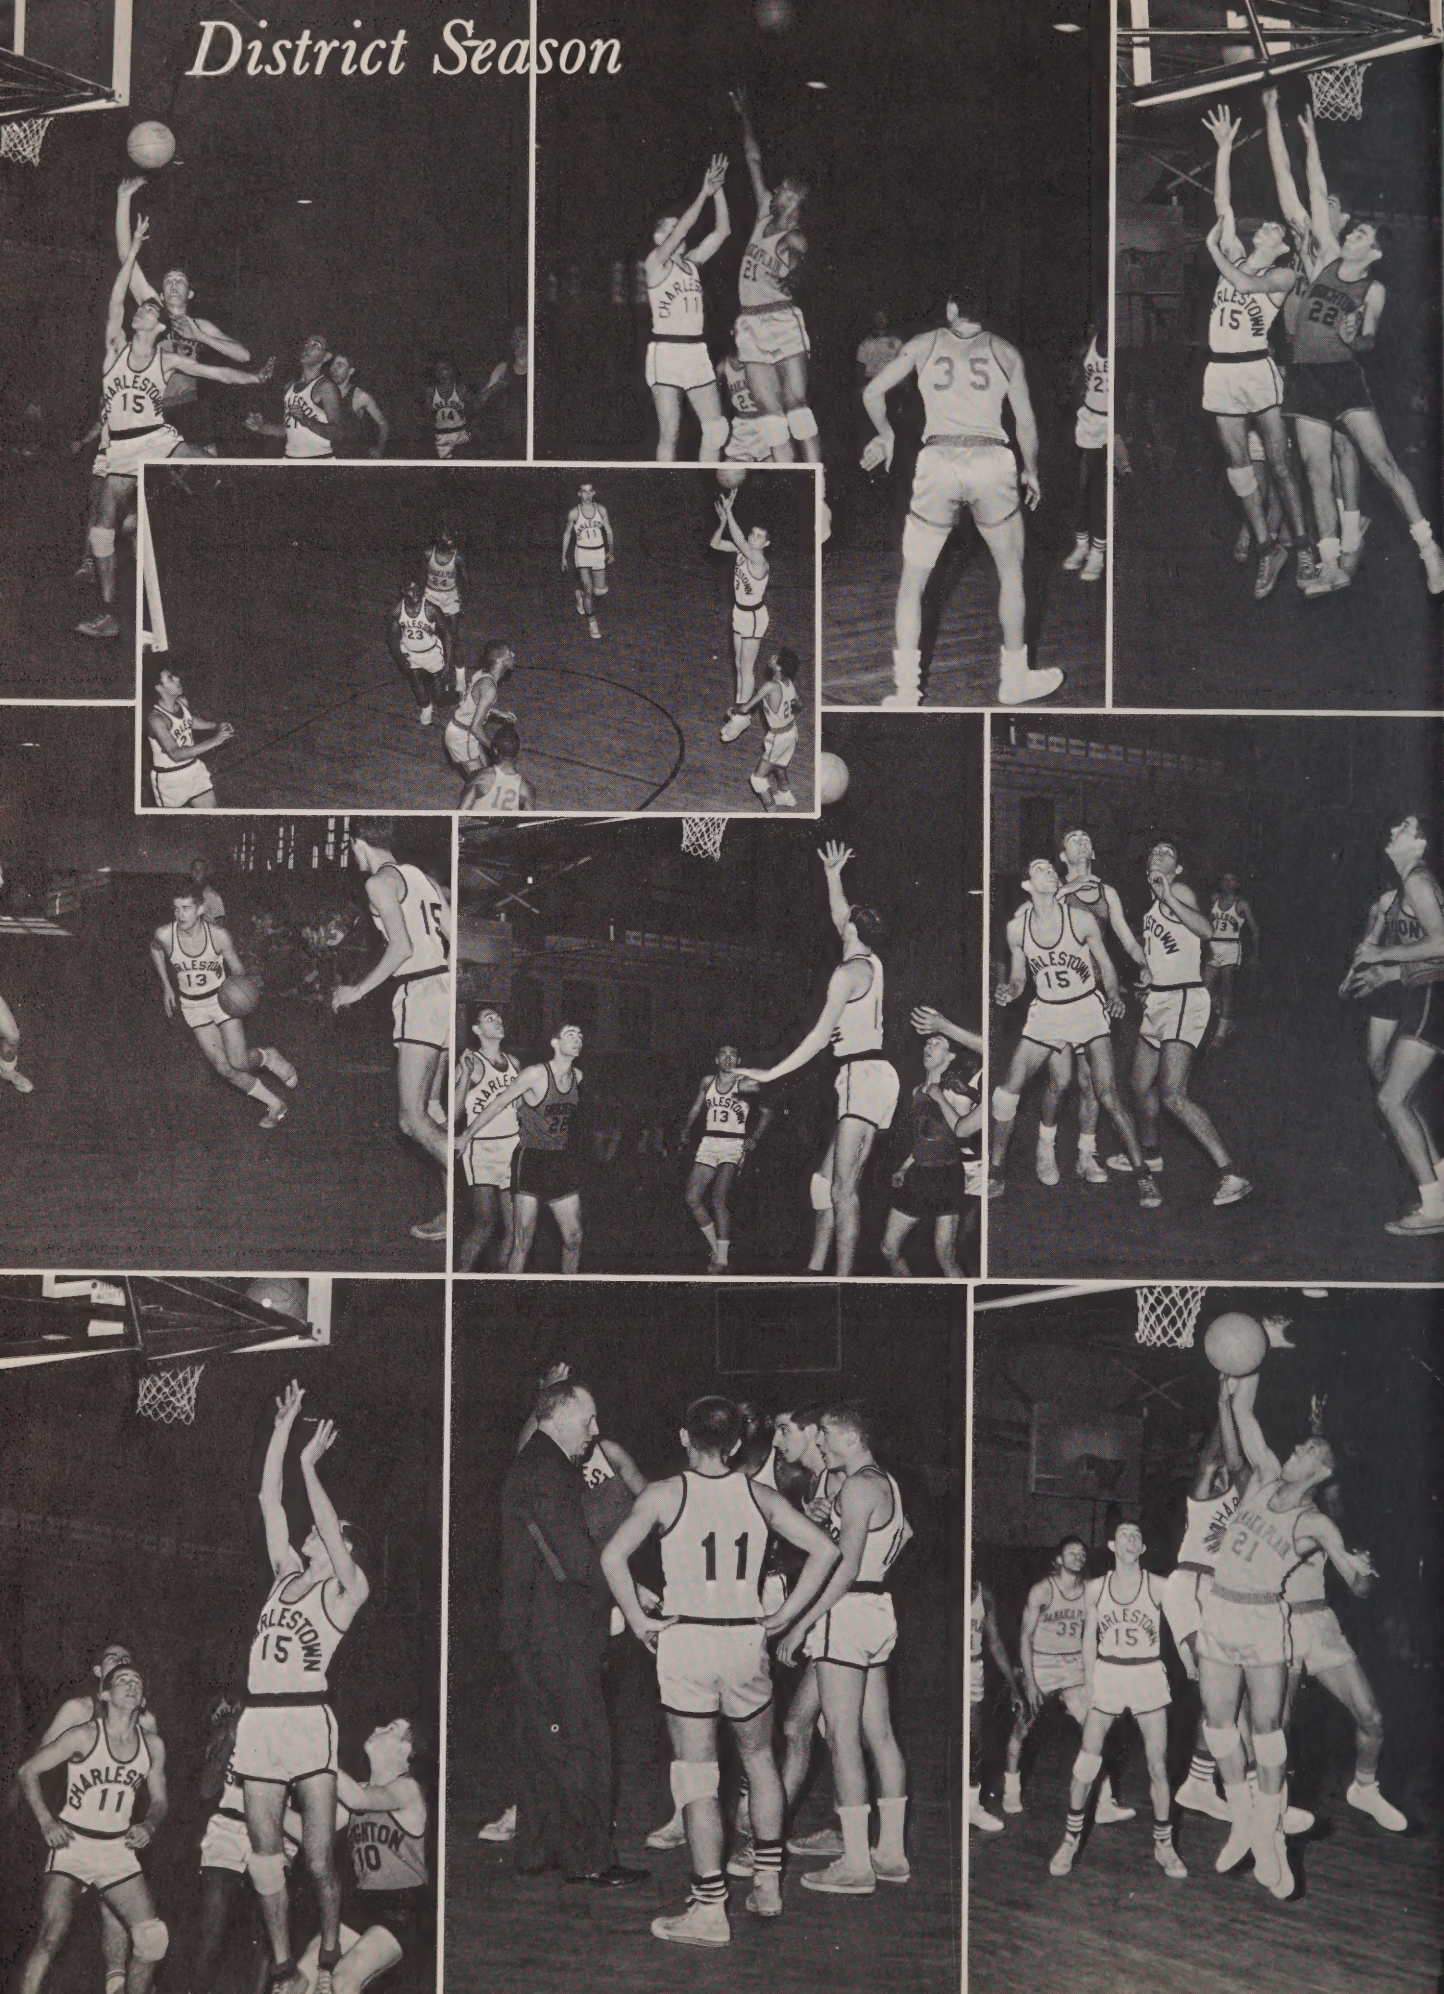

The less said about the Tech Tourney the better. It is enough to mention simply that we lost to a powerful Braintree club by the score of 82-37.

All Star

A most unusual thing happened this year to the C. H. S. hockey team. The entire starting line-up of our District Champion Team was picked for the District All-Star Team. Therefore, on

Starters

These pages you see them, lined-up and individually: Bob Cunio, Butch McGrath, Tom White, Manny O'Neil, Vinny Doherty, and John Tibbetts.

District Track — Almost!

The 1963 track season was a successful one on the whole. In fact, the indoor team came within gunshot of winning the District title. The runners scored more points than the District champion, Roslindale, but the competitors in field events could not come up with enough points to overtake Rossie, and thus the team finished second. In the field, the team made up in quality what it lacked in quantity, for Tim Lawson broke the record for the standing broad jump in Class C, and Jim Sanders did likewise in the Class B high jump. The following placed in the District Meet: John Massett, Tim Lawson, Phil Stein, Steve Baldwin, Victor Devine, and Jim Sanders all took firsts in their events; John Massett, Jay Marsden, and Charles Lane had seconds. The Medley Relay finished first in the Districts and second in the Reggies.

Of course, as everyone knows, the Cross-Country team distinguished itself by bringing the District crown back to Charlestown where it belongs.

Charlestown's baseball team completed its 1963 season with two wins and ten losses. The team had good potential, with eight returning veterans from the '62 team, but went into a batting slump that unfortunately lasted the whole season. Most of the games were lost by close scores. With better hitting, the club could have been a contender.

CHEERLEADERS 1963

The cheerleaders of 1963 played their usual important role in the life of the school, cheering at all football, basketball, and hockey games, selling tickets for the Boosters, helping out in civic enterprises, ushering at school functions, marching in the Seventeenth of June parade, and generally making themselves indispensable. In the annual Boston high schools competition the girls finished second. On the opposite page are individual shots of the seniors: Etta Gould, Dolly Magaldi, Jan Keeley, Pam Kerns, Carol Homer, Karen Gammon, Marie Brennan, Paula Rodrigues, and Carol McClellan.

Membership in the National Honor Society is one of the highest honors which the school can bestow upon its students. The requirements for membership are set by the national organization, which governs hundreds of chapters in secondary schools all over the country. Only a limited number of students may be elected in each school, and the standards are very high. Not only must a candidate for membership have an excellent scholastic record; he must also possess qualities of character, leadership, and service. In other words, a member of the society is an outstanding student, a person of honor and integrity, a leader among his schoolmates, and an unselfish contributor of his service to school and community.

Originally, in the Bunker Hill Chapter, only seniors were eligible for membership, but now juniors of unquestioned qualifications are admitted. In the future the new policy of electing a very few sophomores of exceptional merit to provisional membership will be followed. Thus, the society has become a continuing body, and one of increasing importance in the life of the school.

C.H.S. Home and School Association

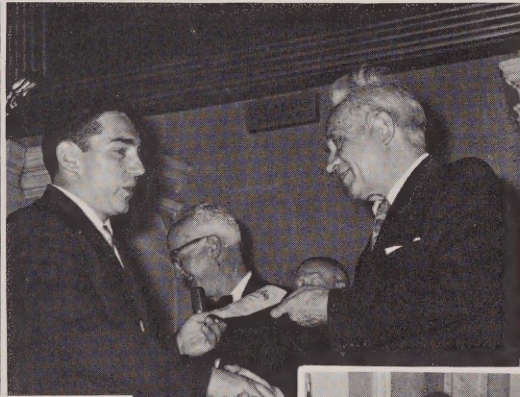

1963 OFFICERS

Treasurer, Mr. Jeffrey J. Keating; Mrs. Kathleen Wall, Secretary; Mrs. Kathleen Whelan, President; Mrs. Edward Austin, Vice-President.

No words are sufficient to express the gratitude of the Charlestown High School, Head Master, teachers, and students, to the Home and School Association, especially the officers and directors. If they did nothing more than arrange the meetings, provide refreshments, and see that many parents came to the meetings and profited by them, it would be a magnificent contribution to the welfare of the school. It is well known that co-operation between the home and the school is one of the most important ingredients of a successful school, and the officers of our association certainly provide that cooperation.

In addition, however, the association has established a scholarship fund, which every year provides a substantial scholarship for some student who is going on to college and also two smaller scholarship aids for students who are going to seek further education in the fields of business education and electricity. Very few people realize how much work is involved in raising and maintaining this scholarship fund. The annual penny sale, the chief source of revenue, is a tremendous undertaking, and requires untold sacrifice in the shape of time, money, and work. We are grateful, and we shall always be grateful, for this wholehearted support.
